

STUDY ABROAD – XIAMEN, CHINA

SUMMER 2014

June 23 - July 7, 2014
Lectures and Field Studies at Xiamen University

Cost - $1377 (Airfare not included)

- Tuition
- Room and Board
- $36 application fee to CES

Course – SCI 496/596

Global Climate Change and Environment Vulnerability

- Earn 3 units of resident credit
- fulfill degree requirements for international experience

<http://ces.sdsu.edu>

Course Topics

This interdisciplinary course will discuss scientific and policy issues related to global climate change, and how the changing climate affects biogeochemical cycles and natural resources. Anyone interested in climate, environment or China can take this course.

SDSU Instructors:

Sam Shen, Ph.D., Mathematics and Statistics

Chun-Ta Lai, Ph.D., Biology

Al Sweedler, Ph.D., Environmental Sciences, Physics

Stanley Maloy, Ph.D., Biology

Xiamen University Instructor:

Jinjing Luo, Ph.D., Ecology and Environment

Study Abroad Scholarship Available

Application Deadline: March 14, 2014

<http://oip.sdsu.edu/oip/> or www.sa.sdsu.edu/scholarship/index.html

Deadline To Register for the Trip:

March 15, 2014 (Limited Enrollment)

www.ces.sdsu.edu/Pages/Engine.aspx?id=513 or call 619-594-5452

For more information contact:

SDSU COLLEGE OF SCIENCES

Dorita Winn – dwinn@mail.sdsu.edu 594-0104

Sam Shen – sam.shen@sdsu.edu 594-6280

Chun-Ta Lai – chun-ta.lai@mail.sdsu.edu 594-0678